Customer Feedback

We have high expectations of all our staff, particularly when dealing with you. We hope you find us friendly, accessible and professional. This booklet outlines our compliments, comments and complaints procedure.

Compliments

We are always pleased to know that we are providing a good service or that our staff are doing a good job. It helps us to know that we are developing services in the right way and we always pass on your compliments to members of staff.

Comments

We are constantly looking at new ways to improve our services and we welcome all customer comments.

Comments are important to us because we can learn from what we are doing and build upon it.

Complaints

Sometimes things go wrong and it will help us to improve our services if you let us know when they could have been better. Quite often complaints can be sorted out on the spot, but if not, we aim to investigate your complaint fairly and fully and deal with it quickly and politely.

We want to hear from you if you are dissatisfied in any way with a service provided by the Authority, or any organisation contracted to work for the Authority.

Let us know how we are doing

You can make a compliment, comment or a complaint by:

Writing a letter to:

Corporate Communications and Business Development

Other ways to complain

You can also make a complaint to the Fire Authority.

The Authority is run, like local councils, by elected members who you can contact at any time. If you would like to write to an elected member you can ring Corporate Communications & Democratic Services on 01267 226 864 who will be glad to provide you with their names. You can also access this information from our website, or you can write to elected members at:

What is a complaint?

If you are not satisfied with the service you have received please explain the problem to the member of staff you are dealing with. Give them a chance to put the problem right as most difficulties can be sorted quickly in this way. If you are still not happy you can make a formal complaint.

A complaint will be investigated if it is one of the following:-

- An expression of dissatisfaction about the standard of service.
- Actions or lack of action by the Fire Service affecting an individual or group.
- A complaint that the Fire Service has failed to observe proper procedures.
- A complaint that there has been an unacceptable delay in dealing with a matter.
- A complaint about the way in which an individual has been treated by a member of the Service.

Anonymous complaints

All complaints received must include your contact details, any anonymous correspondence will not be formally dealt with. If you make a complaint we will only discuss it with the people who need to know, in order to try to put it right, and we will tell you who they are.

Is there a time limit for making a complaint?

It can be difficult to look into things that happened a long time ago. Unless there are exceptional circumstances, we will not consider a complaint about something that happened more than 12 months ago.

Formal Complaint

Here is information on our two step complaints process:

Step 1: Informal Resolution

Step 2: What happens when I make a formal complaint?

Step 1: Informal Resolution

We offer the opportunity for formal engagement and every effort will be made to resolve complaints either at the time the concern arises or very shortly thereafter. Fire service personnel are empowered to deal with complaints as they arise with the aim of resolving issues on the spot by means of an explanation or other appropriate remedial action by the staff to whom the complaint is made.

If you are not satisfied with the outcome of your complaint at the end of the informal stage then you will be advised how to progress your complaint to the formal investigation stage.

If your complaint falls under a special procedure (for example, a disciplinary or legal procedure) we will tell you.

If we consider that your complaint is justified, we will apologise and let you know what we can do to put things right. If we feel that your complaint is not justified we will tell you why.

Step 2: What happens when I make a formal complaint?

We will send you a letter telling you that we have received your complaint. We will aim to send you this letter within two working days. When you make your complaint, one of our officers will investigate the problem. You will be given the name and phone number of a contact officer who can explain our complaints procedure and if required, guide and assist you.

We will aim to give you a full reply within 14 working days. If we cannot give a complete answer, or if your complaint is of a complex nature, we will tell you what we are doing to investigate your complaint and how long we expect it to take.

I would like to take my complaint further

We hope that we will be able to resolve most complaints at steps 1 or 2 but if you are still unhappy with our reply, you can refer the matter to the Public Services Ombudsman For Wales to request an independent investigation of your complaint.

Please note, the Ombudsman will usually only consider your complaint once you have been through step 2 of our complaints procedure. The Ombudsman normally expects you to bring your complaint within 12 months of becoming aware of the problem.

For more information about the Ombudsman, you can contact them at:
